TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many

A Sufferer in Norway

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak.

Poisons that pass off in the secretions

when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are dis-ordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen, worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney

Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Norway woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. A. L. Sanborn, Beal street, says:

"I am perfectly satisfied Doan's Kidney

Pills are a dependable medicine to relieve ailments resulting from disordered kidneys. I used them a few years ago and gave them a thorough trial. Since then

I have had no return of kidney complaint and on that account I place a great deal of confidence in Doan's."

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

Not 16 cents

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Lorain, Ohio, Fire Department says: "I had hemorrhoids and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies without result, but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says: "I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffer with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money for such blessing. I am now enjoying life. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of the piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.

BRIDGTON FAIR

The fifth annual fair of the Bridgton Agricultural Association was held last week. It was scheduled to begin Tuesday, but weather conditions prevented. There were the usual number attending from Bridgton and vicinity and a great number of automobile parties and summer people were present.

All the things that go to make up a first class midway were there. The Ocean Wave attracted many passengers and there were a large number of ice cream booths, fruit stands and popcorn stands.

The fair continued until Friday, when the final prizes were awarded. Those in charge of the fair were the president of the association, Fred S. Hanson; secretary, H. W. Jones, treasurer, J. T. Barley and Myron Libby.

In the hall were a number of interesting exhibits. Especially fine was the exhibit of preserves. There was everything from preserved strawberries to cranberry beans. Among those entering preserves were Louise Quincy, Mrs. Guilow, Phyllis Burnham and Frances Davis. The euro collection was by Mrs. George Newcomb.

In the collection were included a queer brass bowl used more than a hundred years ago for steeping opium in making the drug.

There was also a Prussian dress helmet, brought home by Major W. R. Mason and a Betel nut metal box found after the battle of Mangu Swamp, Island of Jolo, 1903, by a member of General Wood's expeditionary force. Mrs. J. E. Bradstreet of Bridgton had a fine display of pictures. One was a copy of the "Blue painting in the Boston Art Museum. Mrs. Oscar Ham's collection of pitchers from everywhere offered an interesting display.

The Walker Royal Neighbors of America camp had an interesting exhibit of embroideries and lace work. Perhaps the largest number of entries were embroidered linens, tatting, lace work and hand work of all kinds. The work was all very dainty and fine.

An exhibit of worth for a young girl was that of pencil sketches by Rena Cash. There was an exhibition of cooking by young girls. Among those entering vegetables were Mr. Quincy, Louis Crosby, Mrs. Oscar Ham. The exhibition of shawls and quilts was large. Those in charge of the top floor were Mrs. Mori Libby, Mrs. Howard Morse and Mrs. Quincy. On the ground floor were exhibits from the different stores of Bridgton.

The Races

The 2.30 class, trot and pace, proved the feature race of the day. Whitney, with Manan taking first money in a five heat race. Billy Buck led the field under the wire in two starts, but was not equal to the pace set by the Sebago Lake horse thereafter, and finished a poor second in the final heat.

During the third heat with the field well bunched on the home stretch, Dan K. became unruly, broke and leaped over Nancy M's sulky, throwing her driver and breaking up the field. Manana took the lead from the point and was not headed again for the afternoon. Dan K. was but slightly scratched, and although his driver was dragged a distance of over 20 feet he escaped little the worse for what might have been a more serious accident.

The 2.16 class, trot and pace, drew four starts and contrary to the hope, Acme A, owned by T. B. Saunders of Lewiston, took first money in straight heats. S. Thomas' Raymond G looked the class of the field, but could not keep his feet with the result that after three good starts he was each time passed on the back stretch.

Cook's orchestra of Bridgton furnished music between the heats. The results:

PRIZE OFFER

WHAT IS MUSIC?

Fred Sanborn has always told me I did not know how to write an ad, so I am not going to try, but am going to give a prize instead.

I will venture to say that over 100 of my gracious patrons have entered my shop, glanced at the restful oil paintings and steel engravings, read a few of the motto cards in the show cases, settled themselves comfortably in the big green porch chair, heard one or two records and then made a remark something like this:—"I just love music, I don't believe anybody in the world loves music as much as I do." Now these same people will buy me all the way from "Oy's been drinkin' cider" to "The Holy City," and from "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here" to "Shepherd Show Me How to Go" and everyone of these things are what each calls music and pays his good money for—Which one is right? Can all be right or are all wrong?

I used to think I knew something about music. Just last spring one of my young friends about to graduate from high school came for me to give some suggestions about her essay on music. I gave her the advantage of my knowledge and looked up a lot of references for her, but horrors! when she showed the product to her teacher it wouldn't do at all—"Music originated in China and was written in a circle." Big jolt. So you see I am more willing to learn what music is. So I am going to offer a prize of a solid gold 14 karat ring with a Maine gem in it worth at least $10, (let Bob Bickford, the Maine gem king, be the judge of value) for the best letter of about 100 words, telling what real music is. I shall judge and claim the right to publish the prize letter. Of course this won't agree with anybody else's idea—maybe I shall give two rings or three. The contest is open to anybody—all ages, one to infinity; all races, Yankee, Hindu, Mongolian or Hotentot, whether your country is signatory to the League of Nations or not. Christmas is the time limit to allow for letters from China.

I will give a few hints—What seems to be music to me does not to another. For instance, I remember when my sister used to live upstairs in the house where the editor of this paper lived. Fred told her that if she wouldn't play and sing when he was in the house that he would give her all the music he could lay his hands on. I don't believe there was anything personal to this. To Fred the sound of the printing press, the purr of a Hudson motor engine and the whizz of a fish reel are music. Others like a piano and singing. Sometimes they don't want to hear this, what pleases them at one time does not at another. As musical instruments Daniel mentions the "cornet, flute, harp, sacbut, psalter, dulcimer and all kinds of music," but he says nothing about the piano, saxophone, banjo, guitar, mandolin, Victrola, or Graftonola. To various persons various sounds are considered music. For example—The wind in the pine trees, the lapping of the waves on the sand, the moving machines in the wheat field, (whether it yields two or 200 bushels to the acre), the tinkle of a mountain stream, the patter of rain on an open roof, the rustle of beech leaves in the winter, the chug of a steam engine, the sound of a water fall, the click-clack of the train on the rails, the rattle of the cinders, the whirr of the humming bird, the buzz of the bee, the purr of a cat, the creak of a whistle tree, the sound of the ax in the woods, the sound which tea makes when drunk from a saucer. To me after working a hand pump, an fatigue, a windmill has made music. Just last week a friend on entering my store and noticing the flies on the outside of the door awaiting admittance remarked that a much earlier occupant of the store said: "Mrs. Goodenow, who kept a millinery store here" ("not to kill the flies for she liked the sound of their wings.") There are so-called singing beaches at different parts of the world's sea coasts. There is the singing flame and in Job it tells about "when the morning stars sang together. So you see opinions differ and I have only touched a few of the opinions of what music is. Now WHAT IS MUSIC? Send in your 100 word answer and get a prize. This letter should be original, not based on dictionary or encyclopedia and evolved from your inner consciousness. The reason I give a good ring with a Maine gem is that there will be no dispute what that is, while there might be a difference of opinion about anything musical. Maybe the next prize will be music to decide what a gem is. This advertisement is not copyrighted and may be copied without royalty by New York, Washington or California papers.

SURFACE ROADS WITH GRAVEL

The Norway and Cattle of Laconia, N. H., has this to say in an interview regarding mending roads:

"Gravel and hardpan, should be used to a greater extent in road repairing. He went so far as to say that the expensive macadam should be forever thrown into the discard. The surface of the road where is is soon broken through by heavy trucking and then you have bumpy conditions that are bad for motor or for that matter any kind of traffic.

He called attention to the fine roads up around the mountains, particularly the long stretch of highway through the town of Conway, built on the scientific plan of construction but surfaced with gravel. Ride from here to Concord on the State boulevard and you get a bumpy suggestion of what a macadam road poorly kept up can be. Heavy motor trucking is largely responsible for the rough thoroughfare and this raises the question as to whether the state, town and lastly the public should allow this business, formerly and legitimately belonging to the assets of the railways, to have the free use of the state roads. One thing is certain that country roads other than the state trunk lines should be widened, ditched with the road machines and surfaced with good fresh gravel. The tools for doing the work, economically, every town has with the exception of the steam shovel and a sufficient number of motor trucks with hydraulic dump carts to keep the shovel busy. Perhaps this boon for good roads will come when the state has general supervision of the highways and works out a scheme to give New Hampshire the best thoroughfares in the country."

The money, she was told, must be ten $100 bills. Next she was to walk to the old post office, put the money into an envelope, which she must not register. It was to be addressed to "P. L. Fant, in care of General Delivery."

Mrs. Hanneman left Bethel Tuesday night, Aug. 19, and reached New York Wednesday morning. Following the route scheduled in the letter, she drew out the ten $100 bills and mailed them.

Then she decided to seek another person's advice. She called on J. J. Sawyer, a friend who is employed by the Evening Post, told him the full story and showed him the letter. Mr. Sawyer took her to the police and advised her to make a complaint.

Questioning by the police revealed she knew nobody by the name of P. L. Fant. Asked if she knew anybody in New York, she gave the name of Preston L. Ford. The similarity of the initials was immediately noted.

The police set a watch upon the General Delivery window at the Post Office and also upon the letter addressed to "P. L. Fant," which is in the Post Office.

Nobody called for the "Fant" letter, but Preston L. Ford appeared at the General Delivery window about 4:30 o'clock and inquired for a letter in his name. There was a letter for him sent by somebody in Cincinnati and he received it.

After Ford had walked out of the Post Office he was arrested by Detectives Murphy and Murphy of the Beach Street Station and taken to Police Headquarters on a charge of blackmail. According to Detective Murphy, he dictated to Ford the same letter Mrs. Hanneman received and asked Ford to print it. The detective says Ford misspelled the words that were misspelled in the letter Mrs. Hanneman received.

Ford admitted he knew Mrs. Hanneman, but denied writing the blackmail letter. He said he lives at No. 207 West 4th street, thirty-seven years old and single, as a bookkeeper, but has no work at present.

BETHEL

Mrs. Bessie Hannaman Threatened

Mrs. Bessie Hannaman of Bethel received a threatening letter Aug. 15th, Friday which frightened her so much she sent the money demanded. The New York police say she is a widow with a five-year-old son, Carl, who is heir to $100,000 from his father's estate.

The letter was printed in pencil on yellow paper. It began with a demand for the immediate payment of $15,000, otherwise Carl would be kidnapped and taken to a room in New York. "Then," the threat went on, "nobody will ever hear from him again." At the end of the letter the writer urged haste and agreed to accept $1,000 in cash if it were paid without delay.

Mrs. Hannaman was instructed to go to New York from Bethel on Monday or Tuesday, to walk from Grand Central Terminal to Sixth Avenue, take the downtown elevated, get off at Rector street, walk to the name of the name of which the police withheld and draw out $1,000. Evidently the blackmailer knew she had an account there.

The money, she was told, must be ten $100 bills. Next she was to walk to the old post office, put the money into an envelope, which she must not register. It was to be addressed to "P. L. Fant, in care of General Delivery."
